

3. The mystery of the Bermuda Triangle

Preamble

Members of the Spiritualist Society of Athens - Greece called on the spirit of Archimedes who was a specialist in the area connected to their questions. In a past life he had lived in the lost continent of Atlantis and the Society requested that he shed some light on this topic and provide an explanation of what it is that occurs within the Bermuda Triangle. Further, they requested information from Archimedes and Ptolemy on two popular books on the subject.

All questions and answers were provided through the Society's medium: the late George Pizanis.

The corresponding texts from the Spiritual Society of Athens – Greece can be found in {17: 53, 58, 64. 67} which were also translated in {9E: 174, 186, 188, 191, 193}. Additional information is provided in {48}. Each page is divided into two sections: the larger one contains the translation and the other additional material from elsewhere to assist with your reading. Some margin comments were obtained from encyclopaedias and Wikipedia.

This series of monographs is a continuation of the four books in the series “The Purpose of Earthly Life” which can be downloaded free from the website www.divinepharos.org. The original Greek text can be purchased from www.divinelight.org.gr.

The mystery of the Bermuda Triangle

[9E: 174-177] [25: 193-195]
{4 Apr 1977}

QUESTION: The Athens newspaper "Acropolis" of the 20th March 1977, published a report from Rome, which stated that scientists had started to engage with the discovery of the mysterious disappearances of ships and aeroplanes in the Bermuda triangle, which lies east of Cuba and the Dominican Republic, between Miami Florida, and St. Croix (Central America).

Approximately one hundred ships and aeroplanes that were lost within minutes, disappeared as though they had been sucked into space or into the water.

Some scientists are convinced that the solution can be found in the fact that the Bermudas lie on the most unstable zone of the earth's crust, near the 35th parallel, where a major crack in the crust exists. Movements of this crack were the cause of the destructive earthquakes of San Francisco, Lisbon, Agadir, Skopje, Azores, of Naples, etc.

Bermudas = Bermuda = Somers Islands.

- In 1840, the French frigate "Rozalia" disappeared with all hands.
- In 1870, a ship was found near the Bermuda triangle without crew and passengers.
- In 1880, the British steamer "Atlanta" disappeared with all hands.
- In 1945, five U.S. aircraft that took off from Lauderdale base disappeared, as well as the reconnaissance plane that was sent to find out the cause of the disappearance!
- In 1963, the "Cyclop", weighing 19,000 tons disappeared with 309 passengers .
- In March, 1973, the "Annita" of 20,000 tons disappeared whilst sailing towards the USA.

Some pilots of the disappeared aircraft managed to note that the sea was strange and a weird yellow cloud was rising from the horizon.

The Canadian Government assigned a study to an electronics expert from Ottawa, who reports to have observed "low field" zones of 300 metres in diameter in the area of the triangle and that these zones must be linked to gravitational zones together with the magnetic field of Earth. In addition, similar phenomena to those within the Bermuda triangle were observed in a zone in the antipodes, named the "Sea of the Devil", which is in the Pacific Ocean, south of Japan and east of the Bonin Islands. There in 1952, an underwater explosion destroyed the Japanese "Kasio Maru" and later on, the "Sihuyio Maru" disappeared without a trace!

The Bonin Islands, known in Japan as the Ogasawara Group are an archipelago of over 30 subtropical and tropical islands, some 1,000 km directly south of Tokyo.

ARCHIMEDES: My brothers, pioneers and researchers of sea channels have drawn up charts, based on which their ships navigate. Why then do some captains change the specified course and fall into the various dangers which indeed have been noted to be in some parts of the oceans?

At the great depths of these seas, earthquakes occur and ships are sucked into the seas by the disturbances they create. Material fumes are hurled from the depths with such velocity that they poison the atmosphere of the surrounding area and the people on the ships go mad and jump off, thus becoming victims of the voracious attraction that is created from the depths by electromagnetic currents.

These danger spots exist in the two biggest oceans on your Earth, the Atlantic and the Pacific. In other areas, these phenomena are less dangerous. Of course, if a ship happens to pass by at or during the time when an eruption of the underwater volcano takes place, no one is saved! If however, the ship passes by at a distance of 500 meters from this unusual sea disturbance, then the ship remains intact. However, the people onboard are affected due to the atmosphere that is created (because the poisonous elements within the bowels of the Earth come into contact with the atmosphere), and they lose their minds. Not being able to survive, they seek their salvation inside the sea, which sucks them in!

Those who travel by sea should be careful. Those who fly should avoid the fog that is created by the energy of the electromagnetic attraction in the atmosphere from the poisonous fumes from the Earth's depths. There is an explanation for these phenomena. If Man had wanted to study them, he would have learned many things, instead of relying on his imagination.

The number of ships mentioned in the newspaper report is not just one hundred (100) but many more - a fact that science ignores!

The mystery of the Bermuda Triangle - A

ARCHIMEDES: Dear brothers, most spiritualists are interested in transcendental phenomena, but despite this, they have the human short sightedness of not understanding and not applying the directions of the Teachings that Spirits of high calibre from our Kingdom transmit to them. They believe in spiritualism, with some doubt, therefore they cannot make correct contact with Our Kingdom.

Referring to your question on the work of the author of "The Bermuda Triangle", I have to say that this author, as well as many others, believes that the world that they have studied in such depth holds no more mysteries for them. This opinion of theirs is totally wrong since they do not know why they have come to live on Earth. Science has not found anything worthwhile, despite its admirable – so it thinks – progress, when it ends up with the systematic annihilation of humanity.

Whatever is published about the various phenomena is mere conjecture and supposition of their spirit, so they are far from the truth, the meaning of which they are unable to perceive. They are all so imaginative and attached to the myths of their morbid inspiration, that they do not believe in the truth which the Authority of our Heavenly Kingdom transmits to you. It is unnecessary for us to deal with egoists and non-believers of the field of transcendental Logos.

The Bermuda Triangle is a best-selling 1974 book by Charles Frambach Berlitz (November 20, 1914 – December 18, 2003) was an American language teacher known for his books on anomalous phenomena, as Brother, I answer only parts of your question regarding what happens in the Bermuda Triangle, because you ask to know the truth and I am obliged by my Authority, to give you relevant images, even in an indirect way, of the things that I am not allowed to say about this mystery. Unfortunately, I cannot give non-beneficial explanations in detail, when the 20th century Man, despite his spiritual profundity, is far from the real cultivation and he deceives his fellowmen with imaginary cases. I explain to you, not everything but some of the phenomena, with precision. I am not allowed to transmit more and exceed the directive I have been given.

The triangle of the Bermudas does not exist because the observed phenomena changes shape. The same happens in other seas, where vast areas of land once sank. You can name the so-called triangles as “Mouths of the Devil” and avoid them. Sea monsters or beasts are unable to cause disturbances in the abyssal depths of the oceans.

In my special narration on the sinking of Atlantis, I described some years ago what horrifying destruction took place with the earthquakes and the nonexistent – till then – volcanoes. Why don't you ask what has become of them? Today they exist under the depths of the sea and at different places, so the search for their location would be very dangerous. The bottom of the Atlantic Ocean has not changed its shape totally. There are depths that you cannot measure with sonar. Where your device measures 2000 meters or less, in reality the depth is 7000 – 8000 meters. Doesn't this phenomenon impress you? For this reason, the researcher must be very careful.

In some parts of the oceans, not exclusively in the Bermudas, with the eruption of an underwater volcano, a kind of a lime mixture is hurled out of the sea surface with great speed and to a great height with the radiation of a comet. This mixture has a mass many tons. At the moment that this falls back into the ocean, it creates an anaesthetic gas which is very dangerous to the human organism. When this gas rises up to the ether, it forms traps, clouds which are not visible.

The mystery of the Bermuda Triangle - B

ARCHIMEDES: The known sea areas of the Bermudas and other parts of the oceans are not always as dangerous, as described by their specialist researchers. As an example, dear brother, do not forget that another great continent named Lexouria was sunk 60,000 years BC in the Pacific Ocean. The civilisation of that Continent had reached a high level of progress. It is through fate that when the nature of progress is only external, the citizens fall into lawlessness and they disappear. Very few people of Lexouria, who had a cultivated conscience and a religious sentiment managed to survive and after many adventures they reached a small area of what is today Japan.

Of course, the civilisation of Lexouria cannot be compared to that of well as his language-learning courses which popularized the belief of the Bermuda Triangle as an area of ocean prone to disappearing ships and airplanes. The book sold nearly 20 million copies in 30 languages.

In the book, Berlitz elaborates upon several theories for the purported disappearances, although he only gives credence to theories that have natural background. One of those theories states that the Bermuda Triangle was actually a by-product of the destruction of Atlantis.

The book was the subject of criticism in Larry Kuscher's 1975 work The Bermuda Triangle Mystery—Solved, in which Kusche cites errors in the reports of missing ships.

Lloyds of London has determined the Triangle to be no more dangerous than any other piece of the ocean, and does not charge unusual rates of insurance for passage through the area. The USA Coast Guard records confirm this determination. However, tales of missing ships, although promoted by Berlitz, existed prior to the book's publication.

[9E 188-190] [17: 58-60]
{7 Apr 1978}

Various authors place the Bermuda “triangle” at different places.

Atlantis. Since I talk about the sinking of Continents, I owe it to you to tell you of another sinking which will take place and a big part of USA will disappear. I am not allowed to tell you when this will happen or for what reasons.

Keep in mind that the natural formation of the ground of the sea bottom in all oceans and elsewhere is not arbitrary. There is always some unknown reason that is impossible for Man to perceive because he has not acquired inner cultivation and he believes out of fear or not at all, based on spiritual distortion. In this case, there is no reason for him to learn and solve the mysteries that occupy his mind so much!

When a person is wise and has conscience, through white logic, his reasoning is much different than that of the common people who consider themselves grandees of the spirit and they who confuse the correct course of humanity.

Learn that:

1. In the whole Universe there are no human beings like those on your Earth.
2. If you assume that extra-terrestrial beings harass you, then in this case their technology must be much superior to yours and at the same time they must be wicked, otherwise they would have conquered your Earth for their benefit a long time ago or they would have destroyed it completely.
3. If again you assume that the extra-terrestrial beings visit you to prove to you that they do exist and are immensely more advanced than your fellowmen, then they would try to teach you and not harm you, even if they had a different form. Therefore, something else is happening which you are not in position to discover. You believe your imagination and you deny the truth, which you take as being a myth.

As you know my friends, from the lost crews of the ships and aeroplanes in the Mouth of the Devil, very few escaped the danger because at the last minute of their departure, by intuition, they refused to follow this course. You will wonder what led them to not follow their journey or their mission. I answer: their Guardian Angel, because they were destined to live. I do not care whether or not a third party believes in what I am saying, as long as I serve the position that you take and not the denial.

Of those lost, very few, being in a state of total confusion and dizziness, mentally transmitted part of their danger by referring to strange beings, which were nothing other than lower-plane spirits. These spirits had assumed a shape of their choice, in order to become visible to the people. I note that these spirits very rarely save castaways, when the latter must be saved. Good spirits do not participate in such cases. I should not add more on this point. A good spirit saves the castaway without being noticed, when the life-destination of the castaway is not finished.

Among your fellowmen, they are some unconscious people who entertain themselves with false messages of the lost ones, thus playing with the suffering of their brothers.

The mystery of the Bermuda Triangle - C

ARCHIMEDES: Brothers, as you know, Man belongs to the third dimension. After death, his psycho-spiritual entity belongs to the fourth dimension. I mention a few informative elements, in order to facilitate your understanding.

{10 Apr 1978}

Man has the impression that he can find the scientific basis of time, space, matter, energy, antimatter, etc. And I ask: under what conditions of the electromagnetic disturbance, when he does not know that the latter is totally different than what he assumes? It is impossible for Man to perceive a mixed energy force, which escapes and is drawn from the Universe from an unknown source.

Returning again to the mystery of the Bermudas, I have to say the following: In this ocean there are various underground rivers, such as the river known to you from the time of Atlantis, the Rodonios. Depending on their pressure, these rivers create currents that are opposite to those of other underwater rivers, so that vortices are created in specific places. There are also volcanic centres at the bottom of the sea. Warm and cold currents disturb the natural existence of the ocean depth. Also, big chasms of moving sand are created there which as funnels, absorb huge amounts of seawater. In addition, gases are created, whose chemical compositions are unknown to your science. These gases rise to the surface and cause confusion in the human mind, but not always in those of the animals. These gases are lighter than ether. When they rise together with ether they form an invisible cloud that extends and, as it continues to rise, it becomes a trap for all living organisms that would pass through it. They are the dangerous layers of the ether.

Pacific ocean

In the ground of Atlantis there was a metal which was much more durable than steel. This metal existed in large quantities and it is unknown in your time. Such metal with such endurance exists also on Mars. Do not forget that the land of the sunk areas of Atlantis, contained layers of electromagnetic energy. These layers together with the magnetic attraction of the sea produce a different energy, of unknown name, because you are in no position to enter into the mysteries of your World. My dear, when people do not know themselves, how do they expect to know their neighbour? And since you do not know your Earth, how is it possible, despite your apparent mechanical progress to know what the Universe is? Do not walk on air because you will drown in the clouds of your morbid imagination.

In Cephalonia there is a suction phenomenon in the sea, where scientists threw large quantities of red-coloured aniline, in order to see to what depth this coloration would be transmitted. This experiment was in vain because the colour changes with the processing from the natural chemical substances of the Earth's interior.

As for the Greek alphabet, this does not belong to the Phoenicians or any other people but to the Atlanteans, who had more letters, some of which were deleted at a later time. What the archaeologists and the linguists say are unsupported creations of their imagination.

You use the word "firmament" for the sky because since the old times people had the impression that it was something firm. And they were right; it is not firm for people but for the psycho-spiritual entities. Some priests of the middle ages knew this. On grounds of expedience they let people believe that the firmament of the sky was made of glass!

The first adventurers and conquerors of the American continent destroyed the remnant samples of civilisation that if based on these samples, your science could today have been enlightened and your mechanical progress could have taken another direction. This progress, however, might have brought you to your destruction sooner. Therefore, something good always comes from evil!

ARCHIMEDES: Dear brothers, it is not possible that, in the dark – for you – ages, various people who were far away from each other had weapons far superior to yours and at the same time they were lacking in other fields. If you think about it carefully, you will realise that one and only one country transferred these weapons for an exchange of goods.

The mystery of the Bermuda Triangle - D

ARCHIMEDES: As we have transmitted to you, the Atlanteans were advanced in all fields, so much so that the intellect of the people today cannot grasp this. It is wrong to imagine them as being war-mongering people. They knew however how to protect their country from danger. They occupied themselves a lot with their mechanical progress and their biggest drawback was their excessive hedonism. I speak about the last period of this continent. What your imaginative authors described about combats and wars with other people is pure myth.

What most of your scientists in your current time are unable to comprehend is that not one of them, nor even another form of extra-terrestrials, can do something that is against the Will of the Unknown Principle of the Universal World.

The flying saucers are not a vision, nor a dream, nor a fantasy; they are real objects made of a special material. A long time ago We spoke about them without saying anything concrete. We mentioned a few of their properties indirectly. These objects do not attack, unless you attack them first, in which case they would pulverise you while defending themselves. In this way by attacking them you give the impression that you are savages. The speed of these objects is so enormous that you cannot determine it. While you are watching the flying object above your head, it accelerates with such a speed that it instantaneously disappears from your eyes, as if it has dissolved. When a special ray of theirs comes into contact with any object, it dissolves it. They rarely use such rays because they have other kinds of rays.

Cephalonia or Kefalonia a Greek island in the Ionian sea is just to the east of a major tectonic fault, where the European plate meets the Aegean plate at a slip boundary. This is similar to the more famous San Andreas fault. There are regular earthquakes along this fault. A series of four earthquakes hit the island in August 1953, and caused major destruction, with virtually every house on the island destroyed. The editor together with his mother and sister escaped this earthquake by leaving the island 6 hours prior to the earthquake.

In my narration "The lost civilization of Atlantis" I mention that, in the great depths of the oceans there are fish that are not affected by the enormous pressure of the seawater. I draw your attention to this point; you should research this for your submersible vehicles. The flying objects take this point into consideration and they are not affected by the energy of any kind of pressure. I avoid giving more details and revelations about them because, not only your scientific world but also other wicked people who do not believe in our enlightenment will take advantage of these unknown achievements of technology, thus harming humanity.

On your Earth there are also unknown animals that were not noted in zoology; you can imagine then, how many such animals, exist in the depths of the seas. The 'greenish akrokampios', for example, is a dreadful monster of the deep and there are many more.

Despite the fact that the ether is clear, it is impossible for you to discern what it is that many times traps your aircraft. You ascribe their destruction to unknown factors. The causes are the etheric traps.

Many times your astronauts observed forms of strange beings, which were rather mocking the seamen inside their ships. Why did no one pay attention to this and why has nothing been heard about it? When the inner world of the people is disorderly and you do not care for it, why should you be interested so much in your exterior world?

The book by Charles Berlitz "Without a Trace"

PTOLEMY: Referring to the worthy work of the author Charles Berlitz (Without Trace) on a wide range of phenomena, you wonder what has happened to all those who disappeared from ships or aeroplanes without leaving a trace. For most of them, before departing for example, from Miami for another destination via the Bermuda Triangle, you of course, should know their names. Please, without my proposal being ignored, I recommend to those interested to seek self-hypnotised mediums of calibre and ask them to come into contact with the kidnapped spirits, who will give information about what has happened to them.

It is not permitted for Us to interfere in such situations; only indirectly can We help you find the truth. The responses given by the victims should be submitted to Us for Our examination so that you are not deceived. We will validate what has happened or reject them as misleading.

Whether or not you believe in spiritualism, it is the only way that will clarify, through Our research, what you want to know. This way, these unexplained phenomena would be solved. The name of the earthly receiver is to remain unknown. There is a reason after all that We have transmitted over so many years for partial secrecy to be maintained. You will be greatly assisted in the work of your research. Bear in mind that there are strong spirits that are fickle and could create confusion and for this reason We undertake the clarification of the texts.

In the North pole there is a crypt with an immense depth that is chaotic which is linked with the Bermuda Triangle and also with other parts of the ocean. This hole attracts and will be difficult to discover by an aeroplane whose pilot must be skilful, daring and most of all calm.
